PRAXIS
PERFORMING ARTS

Level 4 Professional Diploma in Performance

ONE YEAR

What you'll learn

Through practical classes, workshops, seminars and performances, you'll learn practical performance skills that'll allow you to work to your best ability in a professional theatre company environment and gain exceptional experience of industry practice. You will also have the opportunity to work closely with partners at The Beck Theatre, and Mappa Mundi Theatre to learn from their directors, producers and actors. You will also gain valuable experience working with professional directors as part of in-house company PRAXISPRO Theatre. This course will add essential industry experience, knowledge and opportunities to your CV and employability prospects. This course is unique in that it is fully funded for anyone who is 18 or 19 years old at the time of enrolment (Advanced Learner Loans are available for anyone 19+)

What you'll need

We hope for our future Level Four students to have 80 UCAS points (A Levels or a Level 3 Diploma) and a proven keen interest in performing arts. If you apply, you'll have an interview and audition where you'll need to perform two contrasting monologues of your choice. While these are our requirements, we do encourage other students to apply for an interview where you will be considered based on experience, enthusiasm and commitment.

How are you assessed?

You will be assessed throughout the whole aspect of your course, from practical workshops and performances to seminars, written essays, portfolios and presentations. We place a strong emphasis on you as a performer, so formal written assessments will be less frequent, and where possible we aim for these to be relevant to professional practice. Your tutors bring with them a wealth of industry knowledge, so they'll be with you every step of the way for advice and guidance - and to bring
